About me

Experienced software engineer with a demonstrated history of working in worldwide impact projects and products.

I'm very enthusiastic about my work and always motivated to take new challenges, specially when it comes to use cutting edge technologies to solve real world problems. Also eager to learn everyday and collaborate with others.

My area of expertise is Kubernetes and Go, where I spend a considerable amount of time, for example, by developing open source projects like gotway, a cloud native API gateway powered with in-redis cache. I'm also Certified Kubernetes Administrator and Application Developer.

Currently, I am working as a senior software engineer in a London scaleup company called Form3.
